Verkostnotiz
Oremus Tokaji Aszú 5 Puttonyos 2019 is an iconic wine from the historic Tokaj region, crafted through the meticulous traditional process of selecting botrytized grapes one by one and macerating them with the base must before a slow fermentation in Hungarian oak barrels. After two years of barrel aging and further refinement in bottle, this vintage seeks the perfect balance between acidity and sweetness, making it ideal for cellaring and vertical tastings.

The 2019 vintage provided ideal conditions for the development of Aszú berries, resulting in particularly well-balanced wines. The freshness and fruit character of this wine are especially evident in its youth, while it also holds tremendous ageing potential.

Aszú 5 Puttonyos embodies the finest balance between acidity and weetness that the vintage has to offer.
It is the perfect wine to lay down and, after some years of patience, to ompare with other vintages in vertical tastings.
